INTRODUCTION

TxDOT Mission

To work cooperatively to provide safe, effective and efficient movement of people and goods.

TxDOT Vision

To be a progressive state transportation agency recognized and respected by the citizens of Texas:

- Providing comfortable, safe, durable, affordable and environmentally-sensitive transportation systems that work together;
- Ensuring a desirable workplace which creates a diverse team of all kinds of people and professions;
- Using efficient and cost effective work methods that encourage innovation and creativity; and
- Promoting a higher quality of life through partnerships with citizens of Texas and all branches of government by being receptive, responsible and cooperative.

History

The Texas Legislature established the Texas Highway Department in 1917 to administer federal funds for highway construction and maintenance. Its responsibilities increased in 1975 when the Legislature merged the agency with the Texas Mass Transportation Commission and assigned it duties as the local sponsor of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway. It then became known as the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

In 1991, the Legislature combined the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, the Department of Aviation and the Texas Motor Vehicle Commission to create the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT).

ABOUT THE TxDOT ORGANIZATION

Texas Transportation Commission

TxDOT is governed by the three-member Texas Transportation Commission and an executive director selected by the commission. Commission members, serving overlapping six-year terms, are appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Texas Senate.

Administration

The executive director is assisted by two deputy directors, four assistant executive directors and a director of staff services.

The department conducts its primary activities in 25 geographical districts. Varying climate and soil plus differing needs of local populations make decentralization of the department necessary. Each district, managed by a district engineer, is responsible for the design, location, construction and maintenance of its area transportation systems. Within each district, oversight of highway construction and sometimes design is the responsibility of the area engineer's office. These area offices also have separate offices in most counties to perform routine highway maintenance.

Eighteen functional divisions and 12 special offices headquartered in Austin provide administrative and technical support to the districts. They are organized into seven functional areas: Transportation Planning and Development, Field Operation, Multimodal Transportation, Administrative Services, Human Resource Management, Motorist Services and Staff Services.

Divisions and Special Offices

The divisions and special offices form a central resource for offices around the state. They develop and implement policy, manage statewide programs and provide other support services for the districts.

The Aviation Division receives, disburses and administers federal and state funds for general aviation airports, and is responsible for helping small communities build, maintain and upgrade airports.

The Budget and Finance Division manages the agency's accounting, contracts, financial planning and payments.

The Civil Rights Division ensures equal opportunities in employment, promotions and training, and investigates internal and external complaints.

The Construction and Maintenance Division provides general oversight of the letting, management, and administration of construction and maintenance contracts.

The Design Division serves as a one-stop clearinghouse for project design of roads, bridges, rest areas and landscapes.

The Environmental Affairs Division is responsible for central coordination and oversight of all TxDOT environmental activities. It is also a liaison with state and federal resource agencies, the public and other groups.

The General Services Division purchases, distributes and maintains equipment, materials, services and facilities for the department. It also monitors our recycling program and provides contract services for the department.

The Human Resources Division manages employee services, oversees employee performance planning and evaluation, and administers the department's recruitment and training program.

The Information Systems Division supports the business operations of TxDOT through the innovative application of information systems technology.

The Materials and Tests Division verifies that all the materials used in construction and maintenance are uniformly tested for quality, and conducts research to improve materials.

The Motor Vehicle Division licenses new-car dealers, distributors, converters and manufacturers doing business in Texas. The division also enforces the Lemon Law.

The Occupational Safety Division promotes worker safety and deals with workers' compensation, insurance matters and handles tort claims.

The Public Transportation Division provides financial and technical assistance to urban, rural, and elderly or disabled transit providers. It represents transit in the planning and programming process and prepares funding-needs projections.

The Right-of-Way Division acquires land to build highways and regulates outdoor advertising and junkyards.

The Traffic Operations Division oversees programs in traffic engineering, traffic safety, railroad crossing and signals, and traffic management.

The Transportation Planning and Programming Division administers planning funds, collects data on the highway system and programs projects.

The Travel and Information Division supports tourism by running travel information centers and publishing travel literature.

The Vehicle Titles and Registration Division administers a statewide system of collecting fees for motor vehicle registration and certificates of title.

The Audit Office conducts independent audits of department operations and contractors for financial contract compliance.

The Business Opportunity Programs Office is responsible for administering the department's Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) and Historically Underutilized Business (HUB) programs.

The Continuous Improvement Office administers various departmental programs based on the principles of Total Quality Management. Teams are created to make decisions at the lowest possible level within the department.

The Central Permit Office issues all oversize/overweight permits to trucks traveling in Texas, routing them safely and collecting fees for the permits.

The Information Resource Management Office analyzes business processes through its "Retooling TxDOT" program, provides executive support through an executive information system, and provides information resource strategic planning.

The International Relations Office advises on international transportation in the region on both sides of the 2,000-mile U.S.-Mexico border.

The Legislative Affairs Office monitors state executive, legislative and congressional activities and identifies proposed bills that may affect the department.

The Management Services Office oversees efforts to implement the department's Strategic Plan for 1995 through 1999, coordinated with the Texas Transportation Plan which maps out TxDOT goals for the next 20 years.

The Multimodal Operations Office is responsible for project planning, policy development and operations pertaining to water, rail, bicycles and pedestrian transportation, and serves as the non-federal sponsor of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway.

The Office of General Counsel renders legal advice to every office of the department on all subjects relevant to TxDOT and its operations.

The Public Information Office works to provide information to the public and to develop public education campaigns regarding department functions and activities.

The Research and Technology Transfer Office conducts research programs to produce technologies to design, construct, maintain, and operate a better, more economical, safer intermodal transportation system.

District Offices

TxDOT's 25 regional district offices are responsible for transportation development; including design and maintenance, right-of-way acquisition, construction oversight and transportation planning.

The state's 254 counties are divided among the districts. District offices divide their highway construction and design work among regional area offices. Area offices also oversee highway maintenance work which is done by maintenance offices located in most counties throughout its region. All of these offices offer local access to citizens who want to participate in the transportation development process.

Each district's Public Information Office serves as a point of contact for citizens, news media inquiries and community education efforts.
